

I'll Carry You

Faded in the midday sun
Didn't know how I kept moving on Carried your heart near mine
For miles and miles and miles
When I found the evening sky
Thought the lights would burn right through my eyes
Another casualty of living here in this life
Another lonely universe to sleep under tonight

Made it through a heavy June
Stationed on a rooftop with a view
Stared at the endless fields
For days and days and days
When I finally touched the ground
Thought I couldn't take another sound
Another casualty of living here in this hell
Another sacrifice, another empty shell

I'll Carry You
I'll hold you in my arms
I'll bring you where your journey ends
Back home where you belong

I'll carry you
I'll hold you in my heart
You're still walking next to me
Still giving your best to me
Like a flame I'll carry in a world too cruel
I'll carry you
I'll carry you

Woke up from a broken dream
Thought I heard you calling out to me
Stared at the blackened sky
For hours and hours and hours
When I finally saw the light
Heard another hundred flags in flight
Another million miles of missions underway
Another tour, another surge, perhaps another day

I'll Carry You
I'll hold you in my arms
I'll bring you where your journey ends
Back home where you belong

I'll carry you
I'll hold you in my heart
You're still walking next to me
Still giving your best to me
Like a flame I'll carry in a world too cruel
I'll carry you
I'll carry you
